

Register of Consulting Archaeologists

For proponents requiring Aboriginal heritage consulting services in Tasmania

The Register of Consulting Archaeologists is provided by Aboriginal Heritage Tasmania (AHT) as a service to proponents and consulting archaeologists.

This Register lists the names, contact details and experience/capability statement of consulting archaeologists who have indicated that they are prepared to provide Aboriginal heritage services within Tasmania. The Tasmanian Heritage Services Directory is also available for consultants working in historic heritage.

The order in which the consultants appear in the Register does not imply any ranking. AHT does not recommend or endorse any particular consultant.

Proponents should be aware that AHT does not verify the reliability or otherwise of the consultant's claims in relation to skills or capabilities. Proponents should seek testimonials and/or review the merit of submitted proposals to determine the consultant's capacity to undertake Aboriginal heritage assessment. Consultants may also be listed as members of the Australian Association of Consulting Archaeologists (AACAI) or Australia ICOMOS. The proponent and their consultants should follow the Aboriginal Heritage Standards and Procedures.

Proponents should also be aware that different levels of heritage assessments are required for different activities/projects. Before engaging a consultant, AHT can be contacted on 1300 487 045 or aboriginal@heritage.tas.gov.au for advice on the likely scope of investigation required.

The Tasmanian Government supports Aboriginal community involvement in Aboriginal cultural heritage management projects. Archaeologists working in Tasmania are expected to work with an Aboriginal Heritage Officer (AHO) recognised by the Aboriginal community as being appropriate to represent and communicate Aboriginal community opinion. A register of AHOs is available on the Aboriginal Heritage Tasmania website.

For application and changes to this register, please email aboriginal@heritage.tas.gov.au with the information as per the register format below.
